RE: HR Data Coordinator, GFL Environmental

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the HR Data Coordinator position with GFL Environmental. I completed a Master of Business Analytics at Edith Cowan University in Australia and now live in Toronto. I offer a practical combination of data validation and reporting experience, prior administrative record ownership, and a workforce-analytics portfolio. That foundation aligns well with GFL's need for accurate HR data processing, dependable reporting, and responsive support across a busy HR operation.

At AYLA Solutions in Australia, I gathered and documented business and reporting requirements, supported SQL-based extraction and validation, prepared advanced Excel reports, and contributed insights for performance tracking. Participating in Agile planning and review sessions strengthened my ability to clarify requests, manage concurrent work, communicate progress, and maintain documentation that others can follow. These habits apply directly to assessing requests, producing scheduled or ad-hoc reports, and improving processes.

My published HR Analytics project demonstrates focused interest in people data. I designed a normalized PostgreSQL model spanning departments, employees, salaries, performance reviews, and attendance, then analyzed headcount, compensation, performance, hiring year, and tenure. I used repeatable validation and structured queries to make the findings traceable. This work reinforced the importance of consistent definitions, careful checks, and confidentiality-minded handling when workforce information supports decisions.

My earlier roles add the administrative and service foundation this coordinator position requires. At Trans Globe Education, I managed client documentation, maintained accurate records, coordinated application and process updates with students and institutions, and supported reporting and workflow management. At Arihant Investment, I handled data entry and maintained confidential client records while supporting daily operations and client communication. Together, these experiences taught me to be organized, responsive, and precise when records and people depend on timely follow-through.

I am drawn to GFL's scale, growth, and integrated environmental-services mission, as well as the opportunity to improve how HR information moves through the organization. While Workday would be a new system for me, my experience learning structured data workflows, documenting requirements, validating records, and supporting end users gives me a strong base to learn it quickly and responsibly. I would welcome the opportunity to bring disciplined data administration, thoughtful reporting, and service-oriented communication to Team Green.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to discussing how I could contribute to your team.

Best regards,
Jainali Mehta
